“ I just typed in Cynthia and your whole name popped up. I didn't even want to hit the link because it said obituary. My brain understands, but my heart refuses to agree with it. Usually, this is one of those situations where I probably would have called you to help me deal with it better. I am just sick to my stomach sometime about this. I'm sooooo glad that you are no longer have to suffer and fight that ugly beast. I do know that I will get to see you again so I can talk you to deaf...Lol
Until we meet again
Love always

“ Cynthia, you were my best friend for more than 10 years. The last time we talked was when you called me from the hospital and said you were waiting for your pain meds and then you were coming over. I thought you were just being your normal slow self because it was taking you so long. You are my road dog my party partner my friend. I dont know how to say goodbye, i dont want to say it. I dont want it to be true. I love you and ill allways be waiting for you to drive up my driveway and say hey. You know i still got your back baby, so if anyone there messes with you you tell them that i will die someday and then you and i will kicky ass.
